WELCOME TO SISU

Established in 1949, Shanghai International Studies University (SISU) is committed to preparing future leaders and professionals with advanced language proficiency, extensive global knowledge, and deep intercultural understanding to shape international scholarship across humanities and social sciences, and address critical challenges worldwide. SISU is known for being one of the earliest institutions where China's higher education in foreign languages took shape. Our pioneering history began in the same year of the founding of the People's Republic of China. Over the past 70 years, SISU has grown into a national leading and globally recognized university for international studies.

We have made it a strategic priority in our development planning to go global. We have now established partnerships with more than 440 universities and institutions from 62 countries and regions, and have maintained close connection with international organizations, such as the United Nations and the European Union. Over the past five years, around 4,600 international students have been enrolled each year in our Chinese language programs or other degree schemes.

We look forward to embarking on this wonderful journey with you for "Feeling China: An Exploration of Chinese Culture".

STUDY IN THE HEART OF SHANGHAI

The city of Shanghai is one of the world's most vibrant cities, a place blooming with so much life and diversity, making a visitor's stay truly memorable. It is a city where the traditions of the east blend perfectly with those of the west, where the old Shikumen buildings proudly stand side by side with the new skyscrapers of the modern world.

Here are some fun facts about Shanghai:

- 1 With nearly 25 million, Shanghai is China's largest city in terms of its population. Nearly 9 million international tourists enjoying Shanghai's top sights each year;
- 2 Shanghai literally means "Above/Upon the Sea," which alludes to the city's location along the Yangtze River Delta near the South China Sea. As an excellent sea and river port, it boasts easy access to the vast hinterland of China;
- 3 Shanghai aims to become an international center for economics, finance, trade, shipping, technology and innovation by the year of 2035;
- 4 The city is divided into two parts by the Huangpu River: Puxi is the older part of the city and hosts the majority of shops and museums; Pudong is the modern part, and is recognized for its extremely impressive high-rises;
- 5 Shanghai has become a gastronomic center of all the major cuisine of China. The downtown area also has a plethora of glitzy foreign restaurants to suit the palate of international tourists.

“ I think Shanghai is a very modern and vibrant city. I really enjoy the mix between modern and traditional buildings. We've been to the downtown areas, the bunds... there are very modern skyscrapers which I really enjoyed. But also, we visit some temples and other more traditional style buildings. And I really like the mix of both of them. ”

Participant from Leiden University

“ It's a very enriching program. It gives me a chance to learn things that I would not have the opportunity to learn outside of China, like taking a Chinese painting course and many other such things. I'm very happy that I could be part of this program.” ”

Participant from Georgetown University

“ I really love this program. I met some differences between the West and the East, and I love all of the lectures. The good thing about the program is that it emphasizes on the lectures, instead of the Chinese language itself. The professors are very nice to us, and they are eager to help us. So please continue this program for the years to come, and I will certainly invite some Greek students to visit Shanghai and SISU.” ”
